Patriotic Sentiments

We met a few days ago with an address of Gov. WRIGHT's, delivered in 1850 at Asbury University. The following passage is so truly national in thought, and so eloquent in expression, that our readers, we are confident. will be gratified at its republication :

I trust-you will inculate in the minds of the young men who shall have come hither for instruction, a burning love for the union of these States. It is too common an occurrence to see our young men in the North and South on examination days, and at school exhibitions, engaged in rehearsing the beauties of this, or the evils of that section of the country, fortering in the youthful mind a bigoted love for this or that section of the country, at the expense of the other. I have no patience to sit down and hear men talk about this or that section of the Union, or of the peculiar frame work of society in this or that State, in opposition to those of other States. This continually speaking of Northern interest, Southern interest, Northern population, and Southern population, is an evil that demands This Union is not composed of a few cities in the North or South; the people of this Union consist of something else than iron mills and wooden clocks in the North, or of rice and cotton bales in the South. We of the West have something to say as to who and what compose the Union; and its glorious truth that there is a spot of earth on this the influence of the West, in her conservative spirit, should be felt in the settlement of all our national questions. It is high time that she should say to the North and to the South, "Thus far shalt thou go, but no farther." From our position, intercourse, character of pursuits, variety of productions, our numbers, and strong attachment to the Union, we will necessarily, in some measure, mingle with every portion of our great confederacy. If we are true to ourselves, to our country, to our high destiny, and to the cause of civil and religious liberty, we may be able, acting in the spirit of our fathers, to be mainly in-language, in its adaptation to the business of pass.

new question in American politics. The assertion of the same right, under a different name, led, after a series of wropgs and insults, to a war between the United States and England in 1812; and thirty years later, under Mr. Tyler's administration, gave rise in the very form now presented, to a stern discussion between the two governments. We need scarce ly do more than allude to the chief points embraced in the correspondence between Lord Aberdeen, the British Minister, and Mr. Webster's letter were the doctrines of the country. They received all over with such force upon his head as to break which took place September 17th, 1787, as the country with Judge Story at their head, in a case embracing the same points, and spanish over with such force upon his head as to break which took place September 17th, 1787, as the country with such force upon his head as to break hich took place September 17th, 1787, as the country with such force upon his head as to break hich took place September 17th, 1787, as the country with such force upon his head as to break hich took place September 17th, 1787, as the country with such force upon his head as to break hich took place September 17th, 1787, as the country with such force upon his head as to break hich took place September 17th, 1787, as the country with such force upon his head as to break hich took place September 17th, 1787, as the country with such force upon his head as to break hich took place September 17th, 1787, as the country with such force upon his head as to break hich took place September 17th, 1787, as the country with such force upon his head as to break hich took place September 17th, 1787, as the country with such force upon his head as to break hich took place September 17th, 1787, as the country with such force upon his head as to break hich country with such force upon his head as powermment or individuals. Utraism never yields or gives; it knows no compromise, and uses no words but those of insolence and dictation. The idea of no compromise is only another name for war. Every family, individual, and nation, must necessarily conceded many things to each other, which is for the mutual benefit of all, and here is the true secret of domestic peace and happiness. And why is not the same principle equally applicable to a family of States or of nations. Compromise, Compromise! This great principle was with our fathers in 1787, with us in 1890 and 1833, has been the watchword of our heretecfore unparalled success, and is the tallisman of our future peace and tranquility. EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, INDIANA. Indianapolis, April 18th, 1855.

THE Several Clerks of the Circuit Courts, will take notice, that by virtue of an act of the last General Assembly, approved February 7th, 1855, they are required, upon the receipt of the laws, to transmit immediately to this office a certificate, stating the time of the reception of the same. They are also required by the "Act to prohibit the manufacture and sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquors, except in the cases therein named, and to repeal all former acts not inconsistent therewith, and for the suppression of Intemperance," approved, February 16th, 1855, to forward a certificate, under the seal of their court, to the Secretary of State, and also one to this office, stating the time of the filing of this act in their office.

This law having been transmitted to the several clerks of the Circuit Courts, by the Secretary of State, more than thirty days since, and no returns having been made to this office, (except from the county of Vermillion, you are therefore requested, upon the receipt of this communication, to forward the certificates required by this law. You will, also, upon the receipt of the laws of the last session, certify the date on which they are deposited in your office.

This is absolutely necessary, in order to give validity to the laws by proclamation from this Department, under the Constitution, and the decision of the Supreme Court of the State.

REVIEW SPEECH OF HON. J. R. CHANDLER

On the Political Power of the Pope Delivered in the House of Representatives, Jan. 10, '55] D. V REV. JOHN CLAUDIUS PITRAT, a EDW. W. HINKS & CO., Publishers, Joy's Building, 81 Washington-st. This Work, from its stern rigidity of logic in meeting the arguments of Mr. Chandler, following him, as it does, step by step through the entire length of his speech, unveiling in a masterly manner the subtlety of the Roman Catholic Theology in reference to the temporal power of he Pope, is better adapted to the enlightenment of the people upon the political influence of the Papal power, particularly in the United States, than any work heretofore published. Not a line of Mr. Chandler's Speech is suppressed in this review, but the whole is taken up, sentence by sentence, and his defence of Papacy is Entered.

FOR BALTIMORE,
PHILADELPHIA

MOST DIRECT ROUTE TO THE EAST.

BALTIMORE & ORIO RAILEGAD.

From Wheeling to Baltimore and Washington.

THE GREAT WORK OF INTERNAL improvement (379 miles to Baltimore, and 403 to Washington,) was opened to the Ohio River in January, 1853, and has now been fully tested and approved, both as a freight and passenger route. The read is located in a romantic country, is solidily constructed, fully equipped and carefully managed, and is thus rendered an attractto Washington.

At Baltimore the road makes a direct connection with the Railroad to Philrdelphia and New York, etc., to which places through tickets are sold and baggage is checked. Passengers and Baggage transferred free of Passengers Going East from Cincin-

Passengers Going East from Cincincinnati have choice of two routes to reach Wheeling.
viz: By steamboat on the Ohio river, when it is navigable, and by the Railroad and Mall route via Columbus,
By the E. E. Boute from Cincinnati, take cars of Little Miami Railroad Express Train, at 6 A.
N., ot 5 p. N., for Columbus, connecting there with Central Ohio Railroad through Newark and Zanesville for Bellair, on the Ohio, four miles from Wheeling. From this place the completion with Baltimore & Ohio Railrod is made direct. By the Express Train of this route, the time from Cincinnati to Baltimore is less than 30 hours, and to Washington is less than 31 hours.

Through Tickets are sold as follows: From Cincinnati to Washington, $16; to Baltimore, $15; to Philadelphia, $16, and to New York, $18 50— to be had only of P. W. Strader, General Agent, South East corner of Broadway and Fourth streets, Cincinnati. Il PBe sure to ask for tickets by the Wheeling route and Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Tt Wheeling, (or Benwood, four miles below.)
the passengers take the superforders of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, which leave twice daily—at 4:30, p. M.

Tt Wheeling, (or Benwood, four miles below.) the passengers take the superforters of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, which leave twice daily—at 4:30, p. m., and 11:45, p. m., for Baltimore or Washington, arriving there in 16 or 17 hours, including stoppages. For safety, speed, regularity, beauty of the country, and general comfort, this road is second to none in the Union.

Freights—With the largest equipment of any railroad in the United States, the road is prepared to do an immense business in the transportation of freights, which are carried with care and dispatch, and at rates as low as those of any other first class line. Besides which, the road makes immediate connection at the wharves and in the streets of Baltimore, with the Rrailroad to Philadelphia and New York steamers of Erricson and Baltimore Steame streets of Baltimore, with the Kraliroad to Philadelphia and New York steamers of Erricson and Baltimore Steams ship Cmopany's Lines by Canal and by Sea to New York and Boston, steamers to Norfolk. OFFICE GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT, New York, Feb. 9th, 1865. AT A MEETING OF THE REPRE-A sentatives of the several Railroad Companies between New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Baltimore, and Chicago, Cincinnati, and the Ohio and Mississippi rivers,

Chicago, Cincinnati, and the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, held at Cleveland on the 26 of November, 1854, the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That hereafter no return pass will be assued to any owner or driver of stock, nor will any such owner or driver be passed free on any train other that hat which conveys his stock."

The New York and Eric Railroad Company being satisfied from their experience of the practical difficulties to be encountered in carrying out this resolution, through thoir representative proposed the following in lieu thereof:

thereof:

"Resolved, That as it has been deemed inexpedient to carry live stock without requiring the owners to send men to attend to loading and accompany the train to take charge of such stock, in consideration for such service, it is no more than justice that such men be returned over the roads free."

Thave in Store, and are manufacturing the largest Stock of Boots and Shoes ever before offered to the trade of this State. Having examined the Eastern market in the early part of the season, the advance in their prices and the quality of their work seemed to offer an inducement to Western Manufacturers to make their own work. The trial has proved most satisfactory and our large and increasing trade is our reward.

Our work is emphatically "home-made work." We manufacture the leather from which we make our Boots and Shoes. This, with a long experince in the business, enables us to offer you any article in our line as cheap as can be purchased in New York. We, therefore, feel confident that an examination of our Stock, will convince you that it is the best policy, as well as the most profitable for you to encourage "Home Manufacture." aug31dtf aug31dtf J.
